In compliance with standards established by ASCO's Revised Conflict of Interest Policy (JCO, Vol. 21, No. 12 [June 15], 2003: 2394-2396), it is ASCO's intent to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all of its editorial policies related to the Journal through the disclosure of financial interests, among other measures. The financial interests or relationships requiring disclosure are outlined in ASCO's Conflict-of-Interest Policy. All Authors submitting work to the JCO are required to disclose any real or apparent relationships with industry that may have a direct bearing on relevant subject matter.

This disclosure pertains to:

- Relationships with pharmaceutical companies
- Relationships with biomedical device manufacturers or other corporations whose products or services are related to the subject matter of the submission
- Financial interests or relationships

The intent of this policy is not to prevent authors with these relationships from publishing their work. It is merely intended that any potential relationships be identified openly so the Editors and peer reviewers may make informed decisions about submitted manuscripts and so the readers may form their own judgments about the publication with the full disclosure of the facts. It remains for readers to determine whether the authors' outside interests reflect a possible bias in the conclusions presented. JCO also requires all Editors and reviewers to make similar disclosures.

For all disclosures, fill all sections and sign the last page (attach additional sheets as needed). Please spell out all acronyms. Please complete a separate form for every author.

Note: "Family member" is defined as someone with whom you have a relationship involving the sharing of income or assets.
